General Overview

From the beginning of January 2023 until the end of March 2023, the ACTIVATE platform was tested.

The ACTIVATE platform is supposed to improve digital skills of people with disabilities and offers a training course on online community action and social participation mechanisms.

The ACTIVATE platform presents the training course, which is structured in five different modules:

1. Basic Digital Literacy Skills
2. Online Socialisation and Communication
3. Digital Leisure and E-learning
4. Online Opportunities for Volunteering
5. Online Advocacy/Activism

ACTIVE COMMUNITIY PARTICIPATION:

Validation phase for people with functional diversity

Validation Phase

#1

The validation phase was carried out in all partner countries involved in the project.

#2

Most of the participants were reached face-to-face. In Portugal, Germany and Cyprus partners conducted both approaches, a face-to-face and online testing.

#3

To collect feedback from the participants, two different questionnaires were created. One for the target group of adults with functional disability and another for trainers working with this target group.

#4

In total, 105 target group participants and 42 trainers participated in the testing.

Findings & Feedback

The overall impression is positive. Both groups underlined that the course is very useful, the modules are well-chosen and interesting.

The ACTIVATE platform, in general, received positive feedback and seems to be appealing to the audience.

All suggestions and improvements will be made before launching the final version of the ACTIVATE platform.
